Full One Year Warranty

Safer Sports Technologies, LLC (SST Baseball) provides a full one year warranty for the adhesive backed padding attached to the inside of your performance head guards. If a defect or malfunction in the adhesive backed padding appears within the first year, SST Baseball will provide, at your choice, either free replacement and repair of the padding on your existing performance head guards or a credit of the original purchase price to be used toward new SST Baseball products.

Coverage is effective through the first full year after the original date of purchase. Coverage does not apply if guard has been hit or struck by a batted ball or other object while being worn to protect the head. This warranty does not cover damage or defect to the hardened carbon fiber shell of the guard.

It is recommended that consumers contact SST Baseball immediately if defect or malfunction is found in the adhesive backed padding. Do not continue to use the performance head guards for protection. SST Baseball is not liable for any damage or costs relating to damage if head guards are worn with defective padding.

How to Get Service: Contact SST Baseball at 470-238-9778 to speak with a customer service representative.
